What I like best about my job!

- Working with customers to help them solve their business issues using solutions from me rather than solutions from my competitors.
- Help my customers
- Competing to be the best at that!

I am in a specialty sleep shop. I love it because almost everyone that walks in is going to buy a bed, it is no pressure, no stress and very laid back.

My role is both HR and business advice to a broad range of clients and I work within a large rural accountancy practice. What do I love about my job - everything. Helping people would be the No.1 if pushed, I just love that everyday my role is to available top work with people and help them either resolve HR issues and get better outcomes or to achieve more in their business. Add to that I work for a great company with genuine values for a fair remuneration, what more could one want at work? I could earn a lot more in the large cities, but wouldn't have the great people around that I deal with daily, it's a dream role. Even the legal stuff and mediations. 😊

5. My boss. She is a competent professional, is politically savvy, and a great human being.
4. My co-workers. There is no drama in my group.
3. My paycheck. Company may be not that sexy, and too fiscally conservative, but that gives me a sense of security that my check will always clear.
2. Telecommuting is coming soon here. That would save me a one way 30-mile commute, twice a week.
1. BNET Sales Machine. I can read this blog during business hours, and say that I'm researching for some new sales programs!

Hang in there,
